Celebration Teaching Academy and K-12 School
Celebration, FL

A K-12 public school and teaching academy was commissioned by the Walt Disney Development Company. Informed by a set of educational reform qualities, the school is a key part of the development of Disney's Celebration Town. The 36-acre campus, serving 1,200 students each year, is located on the commons in the heart of the new town. Schenkel Schultz Architecture and KBJ Architects are the Associated Architects.
